Anticipating 2019

The Rupiah has continued to strengthen against the US Dollar. During November 2018, the Rupiah strengthened by 6% against the US Dollar from IDR15,203 per USD on 31 October 2018 to IDR14,302 per 30 November 2018. Compared to last week, the Rupiah strengthened by 1.21%. In terms of volatility, the volatility of the Rupiah against the US Dollar as calculated from the average of the highest and lowest daily levels rose to 72 points last week compared to 59 points in the previous week.

Meanwhile, WTI oil prices increased slightly by 1.4% from USD 50.22 per barrel on November 23, 2018 to USD 50.93 per barrel on November 30, 2018. During November, however, WTI oil prices were significantly down by 22% from USD65.31 per barrel on 31 October 2018.

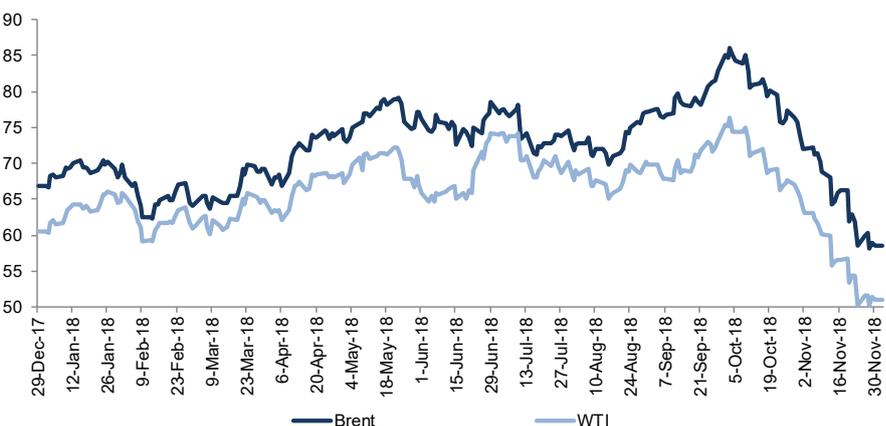

Tren penguatan Rupiah terus berlanjut di bulan November

Rupiah terus melanjutkan penguatannya terhadap US Dollar. Selama November 2018, Rupiah menguat sebesar 6% terhadap US Dollar dari Rp15.203 per USD di 31 Oktober 2018 menjadi Rp14.302 per 30 November 2018. Jika dibandingkan dengan minggu lalu, Rupiah menguat sebesar 1,21%. Sedangkan volatilitas nilai tukar Rupiah terhadap US Dollar yang dihitung berdasarkan rata-rata dari selisih level tertinggi dan terendah harian tercatat meningkat selama minggu lalu menjadi 72 poin dibandingkan 59 poin pada minggu sebelumnya.

Sementara itu, harga minyak WTI sedikit mengalami peningkatan sebesar 1,4% dari USD50,22 per barel di 23 November 2018 menjadi USD 50,93 per barel di 30 November 2018. Selama bulan November, harga minyak WTI telah menurun signifikan sebesar 22% dari USD65,31 per barel di 31 Oktober 2018.

Still in a bullish trend

The Indonesian bond market remained bullish last week. The Danareksa Government Yield Index was recorded at 7.99% per 30 November 2018, or down by 10 bps from the previous week and down 59 bps compared to its level as of 31 October 2018 of 8.58%. Last week's closing level is the lowest level since 4 October 2018.

In line with the decline in bond yields, the 10-year Indonesia CDS dropped by 17bps from 235bps on 31 October 2018 to 218bps on 30 November 2018. Meanwhile, the 10-year US Treasury declined by 14bps from 3.15% on 31 October 2018 to 3.01% on 30 November 2018. The US yield curve tended to be flatter over this period as reflected in the difference in the 10-year and 2-year yields which declined to 21bps, its lowest level since 18 August 2018 when the spread was 18bps.

Apart from the strengthening of the Rupiah, the decline in yields was also driven by foreign capital inflows. During November, foreign holdings went up significantly by IDR36.27 trillion from IDR864.32 trillion on 31 October 2018 to IDR900.59 trillion on 30 November 2018. The total increase in foreign holdings up to 30 November 2018 was IDR64.44 trillion or an increase of 8% compared to the end of 2017, when foreign holdings stood at IDR836.15 trillion.

Pergerakan bullish terus berlanjut

Pasar obligasi Indonesia terus mengalami tren bullish selama minggu lalu. Danareksa Government Yield Index tercatat sebesar 7,99% per 30 November 2018, atau menurun sebesar 10bps selama minggu lalu dan menurun sebesar 59bps dibandingkan dengan penutupan tanggal 31 Oktober 2018 sebesar 8,58%. Level penutupan minggu lalu tersebut merupakan level terendah sejak 4 Oktober 2018.

Sejalan dengan penurunan yield, CDS 10-tahun Indonesia juga mengalami penurunan sebesar 17bps dari 235bps di 31 Oktober 2018 menjadi 218bps di 30 November 2018. Sedangkan US treasury 10-tahun cenderung mengalami tren penurunan sebesar 14bps dari 3,15% di 31 Oktober 2018 menjadi 3,01% di 30 November 2018. Sementara itu, yield curve AS cenderung lebih flat selama periode yang sama. Hal tersebut dapat dilihat dari selisih yield 10-tahun dan 2-tahun yang kembali turun menjadi 21bps, level terendah sejak 18 Agustus 2018 dengan spread sebesar 18bps.

Selain karena penguatan Rupiah, penurunan yield juga didorong oleh adanya capital inflow dari investor asing. Selama bulan November, kepemilikan asing mengalami peningkatan yang signifikan yaitu sebesar Rp36,27 triliun dari Rp864,32 triliun di 31 Oktober 2018 menjadi Rp900,59 triliun di 30 November 2018. Total peningkatan kepemilikan asing hingga 30 November 2018 adalah sebesar Rp64,44 triliun atau meningkat sebesar 8% dibandingkan akhir tahun 2017 yaitu sebesar Rp836,15 triliun.

Plans and targets for 2019

In the 2019 State Budget draft, there were several changes in macroeconomic assumptions. First is the assumption of the Rupiah to US Dollar exchange rate from the State Budget Draft (RAPBN) which assumed an exchange rate of IDR14,400 per USD. This has been revised to IDR 15,000 per USD in the 2019 State Budget. In addition, oil lifting which was first estimated at 750 thousand barrels per day (bpd) in the 2019 RAPBN was revised to 775 thousand barrels per day (bpd) in the 2019 State Budget. The government made the changes so the State Budget is more realistic and credible. The changes in the exchange rate and oil lifting assumptions will lead to higher state revenues and expenditures, but the deficit will be maintained at the level of 1.84% of GDP.

The total debt financing needs for 2019 are IDR833.94 trillion. The proportion of financing through SBN is 92.5% and the remaining 7.5% is from loans. Government debt is prioritized in Rupiah to provide a cushion against exchange rate volatility. Thus, the proportion of foreign currency debt is 21.62% while domestic debt accounts for 78.38% of the total.

Meanwhile, the planned financing of the 2019 State Budget through the issuance of SBN (gross) is IDR825.70 trillion with the proportion of foreign exchange SBN issuances at 14%-17% of gross SBN in USD, EUR and JPY. The targeted issuances in the first semester of 2019 are 50%-60% of the gross SBN target. While for the financing in Rupiah, the issuances in Semester I 2019 are 52% of the gross SBN Rupiah target. The issuances of SBN will be conducted in 24 SUN auctions and 24 SBSN auctions as well as through non-auction mechanisms: the issuance of ORI, Sukri, SBR, and Sukuk Savings and Private Placements. In addition, the Government also upsized the issuance of retail SBN with plans to issue regular SBR and ST total 8x in a year with a maximum of IDR 5 trillion per issuance and a total target of IDR30-40 trillion, whilst also issuing ORI and SUKRI total 2x in a year with IDR15-20 trillion per issuance and a total target of IDR30-40 trillion.

Rencana dan target 2019

Dalam keputusan APBN 2019, terdapat beberapa asumsi dasar ekonomi makro yang dilakukan perubahan. Diantaranya adalah asumsi nilai tukar Rupiah terhadap US Dollar dari RAPBN yang berada di level Rp14.400 per USD menjadi Rp15.000 per USD di APBN 2019. Selain itu, lifting minyak diperkirakan sebesar 750 ribu barel per hari (bph) pada RAPB 2019 menjadi 775 ribu barel per hari (bph) di APBN 2019. Pemerintah melakukan perubahan tersebut dengan cepat untuk mengantisipasi kondisi global sehingga APBN menjadi lebih realistis dan kredibel. Perubahan nilai tukar dan lifting minyak tersebut akan berdampak meningkatnya pendapatan dan belanja negara, namun defisit tetap dijaga di level 1,84% terhadap PDB.

Total kebutuhan pembiayaan utang tahun 2019 adalah sebesar Rp833,94 triliun. Proporsi pembiayaan melalui SBN adalah sebesar 92,5% dan pinjaman sebesar 7,5%. Utang Pemerintah diprioritaskan dalam Rupiah agar tetap resilient terhadap gejolak nilai tukar. Sehingga, proporsi utang valuta asing adalah sebesar 21,62% sementara utang domestik sebesar 78,38%.

Sementara itu rencana pembiayaan APBN 2019 melalui penerbitan SBN (bruto) adalah sebesar Rp825,70 triliun dengan penerbitan SBN valuta asing sebesar 14%-17% dari bruto SBN dengan mata uang USD, EUR, JPY. Target penerbitan Semester I 2019 adalah 50%-60% dari target bruto SBN. Sementara untuk financing dalam Rupiah, penerbitan di Semester I 2019 sebesar 52% dari target bruto SBN Rupiah. Penerbitan SBN akan melalui dua mekanisme yaitu lelang masing-masing sebanyak 24 kali SUN dan 24 kali SBSN dan non-lelang melalui ORI, Sukri, SBR, dan Sukuk Tabungan serta Private Placement. Selain itu, Pemerintah juga melakukan pendekatan lebih terhadap pasar ritel dengan melakukan upsize penerbitan SBN ritel dengan rencana penerbitan SBR dan ST sebanyak total 8x sebesar maksimal Rp5 triliun per penerbitan dengan total target Rp30-Rp40 triliun, serta penerbitan ORI dan SUKRI dengan total 2x dalam setahun sebesar Rp15-Rp20 triliun per penerbitan dengan target Rp30-Rp40 triliun.
