Wismilak Inti Makmur: Better Times Ahead (NON RATED. Rp 320)

Going into 2018, the outlook is brighter since the higher production limit of 3bn sticks for tier II producers should provide room for growth. This will pave the way for more new product launches and higher sales next year. Coupled with the expectation of improving purchasing power and manageable 2018's excise tax tariffs, cigarette demand should receive a timely boost.

Better times ahead

2017 has been a tough year for Wismilak because of the soft purchasing power. Looking ahead, however, the outlook is brighter since the higher production limit of 3bn sticks for tier II producers should provide room for growth. This will pave the way for more new product launches and higher sales.

FY17F volume growth guidance of -10% to -15% yoy. We met with the management of Wismilak and learnt that the 1H17 sales volume declined by 20% yoy. Furthermore, the company reported minus 5-6% growth in excise ribbon sales, a reflection of weak demand in the cigarette industry. Nonetheless, the company may now have turned the corner as sales improved in August and September 2017 and further recovery is expected in the remaining months of the year. As such, for FY17, the company estimates sales volume growth of between -10 to -15% yoy.

Room for growth from a higher Tier II production limit. This year, the company launched two new products: Wismilak Impact 16 sticks (SKM) and Wismilak Dirgha (SKT). However, sales were disappointing due to sluggish demand and stiff competition. Better news comes from the issuance of PMK No.147/PMK.010/2016, which stipulates an increase in the production limit that separates tier I and tier II producers at 3bn sticks compared to 2bn sticks previously for SKM and SPM. For WIIM (which is in tier II), this regulation gives the company greater room to boost its sales given Wismilak's ample production capacity (4bn sticks).

Manageable excise tax increases next year. To pass on higher excise tax, the company has raised its blended ASP by around 5% ytd. In the coming quarters, Wismilak will continue to adjust its selling prices to fully pass on the 7-8% higher excise tax tariff this year. For 2018, the government targets 1.5% yoy growth in the excise tax revenues target in the state budget assuming lower volume growth (3% yoy) and less stringent requirements on excise tax payments for the last two weeks of 2018 (they can be settled by the end of Feb 2019). Coupled with the expectation of improving purchasing power, next year's excise tax tariffs should be manageable and cigarette demand should receive a timely boost.

Lower margins on higher costs and the slump in sales. The slump in sales combined with the higher costs from factory relocation from Kertosono (Surabaya) to Bojonegoro (around 110km from Surabaya) put pressure on the 1H17 margins. This, in turn, filtered through to lower earnings of IDR11.6bn (down 81% yoy). At the current share price, WIIM is trading at FY17F PE of 29x – based on the annualized 1H17 results.
